Questions 1–5

From: Emily Bowring
To: Mandy Liu
Subject: Plane ticket
Date: 11 Oct 2017

Dear Mandy,

How have you been? Hope everything is well. I'm writing you about an associate of mine who is going on a family trip with his parents to New Zealand for approximately a month. Trying to economize on travel spending as much as possible, he inquired if I had any business connections to hook him up for some airfare bargains. I know you've always got the means to save your clients some extra cash. So here comes the case that definitely requires your expertise.

The family has planned to depart from Los Angeles on December 22 and return from Auckland on January 21. To make things easier for both of you, I'll forward this letter to him so that you two can work things out. Thank you in advance for your assistance.

Best,
Emily

To: Jason McCartney
Subject: Flight bookings
Date: 21 Oct 2017

Dear Mr. McCartney,

Sorry for the late reply. Regarding the round-trip air ticket prices from LA via Hong Kong to Auckland, I have reserved bookings for the three of you. Please see the attached detailed flight itineraries and make certain that the names used for reservation are correctly spelled.

All the rates shown are special market net prices, yet please note that the fares between LA and Hong Kong might be slightly lower if you book domestically. I advise you contact local travel agencies and do the math again to get the best offer. Please inform me of your final decision so that I could cancel the unneeded reservations to avoid double booking.

Don't hesitate to contact me for any further questions.

Regards,
Mandy
